PART-TIME FACULTY: MEDIA ARTS DEPARTMENT

ROBERT MORRIS UNIVERSITY

Robert Morris University (RMU), founded in 1921, is one of the leading universities in the Pittsburgh region. RMU provides a professionally focused education with an emphasis on engaged learning and is one of the most affordable private doctoral-level institutions in Pennsylvania. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. In 2016, for the first time in its history, RMU was ranked nationally by U.S. News and World Report.

OPPORTUNITY

The School of Communications and Information Systems is seeking part-time faculty to teach an intermediate level web development course, HTML Toolbox. This is an evening course. Candidates must have a Master's Degree in media and technology or in a closely related field. A terminal degree, M.F.A. or Ph.D., is preferred. College level teaching and industry experience are preferred.

OTHER INFORMATION

RMU offers faculty members an environment where teaching, research and service are supported and valued. For more information on Robert Morris University, please visit rmu.edu; degree programs and accreditations, please visit rmu.edu/academics and rmu.edu/accreditations; candidate and new employee information, please visit rmu.edu/careers. Note: Part-Time Positions are not eligible for the University's Benefit Programs.

HOW TO APPLY

Qualified applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae and a list of three academic and/or professional references via email to: scis_faculty_apps@rmu.edu c/o Dr. Helena Vanhala, Department Head, Media Arts and include the words "Media Arts Part-Time Faculty Application" in the subject line of the email.

At Robert Morris University, we believe that institutional equity reflects our continued commitment to a community where everyone is both valued and respected. Institutional equity encompasses racial, ethnic, gender and religious diversity, cultural perspectives, national origins, sexual orientation, physical ability, as well as socioeconomic contexts, and educational backgrounds.

We are dedicated to developing a diverse population by fostering an environment where intellectual and social growth, individual perspectives, and all human experiences are valued. We strive to be an inclusive community that celebrates and embraces differences as a means of responding to the cultural and social demands of a global society. Inherent in our inclusion efforts is a strong commitment to intercultural and global education to produce and include citizens who will serve as educational, social, economic and cultural ambassadors to the world.

Robert Morris University is committed to increasing diversity in our community and actively pursues individuals from all backgrounds. Additionally, RMU complies with all applicable federal, state and local laws and provides equal opportunity in all educational programs and activities, admission of students and conditions of employment for all qualified individuals regardless of race, color, sex, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, or national origin.
