ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF CYBER SECURITY/FORENSICS COMPUTER AND INFORMATION SYSTEMS

ROBERT MORRIS UNIVERSITY

Robert Morris University (RMU), founded in 1921, is one of the leading universities in the Pittsburgh region. RMU provides a professionally focused education with an emphasis on engaged learning and is one of the most affordable private doctoral-level institutions in Pennsylvania. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. In 2016, for the first time in its history, RMU was ranked nationally by U.S. News and World Report.

OPPORTUNITY

The Department of Computer and Information Systems (CIS) seeks applicants for a faculty position (9-month). Applicants should have a strong background in teaching and researching in the areas of Cyber Security, Network Security, Security Management, Computer Forensics, and Mobile Forensics. Applicants are expected to teach both online and on-ground courses. Experience with open source computer security, penetration testing, forensics tools (e.g., FTK, Encase, Paraben, Autopsy), and Linux are preferred. Computer security or forensic certifications are also preferred. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Information Systems (or an equivalent, terminal degree in a closely-related discipline), teaching experience, and an established record of academic research.

OTHER INFORMATION

RMU offers faculty members an environment where teaching, research and service are supported and valued. Salaries are market competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Anticipated start date is Fall, 2017 and dependent upon final budgetary approval.

For more information on Robert Morris University, please visit rmu.edu; degree programs and accreditations, please visit, rmu.edu/academics and rmu.edu/accreditations; candidate and new employee information, please visit rmu.edu/careers and rmu.edu/benefits.

HOW TO APPLY

Qualified applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae and a list of three academic and/or professional references via email to: SCIS_Faculty_Apps@rmu.edu c/o Dean LeBlanc.

At Robert Morris University, we believe that institutional equity reflects our continued commitment to a community where everyone is both valued and respected. Institutional equity encompasses racial, ethnic, gender and religious diversity, cultural perspectives, national origins, sexual orientation, physical ability, as well as socioeconomic contexts, and educational backgrounds.

We are dedicated to developing a diverse population by fostering an environment where intellectual and social growth, individual perspectives, and all human experiences are valued. We strive to be an inclusive community that celebrates and embraces differences as a means of responding to the cultural and social demands of a global society. Inherent in our inclusion efforts is a strong commitment to intercultural and global education to produce and include citizens who will serve as educational, social, economic and cultural ambassadors to the world.

Robert Morris University is committed to increasing diversity in our community and actively pursues individuals from all backgrounds. Additionally, RMU complies with all applicable federal, state and local laws and provides equal opportunity in all educational programs and activities, admission of students and conditions of employment for all qualified individuals regardless of race, color, sex, religion, age, disability, sexual orientation, or national origin. EEO